INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of National Recreation and Park Association, Inc.

Report of the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of the National Recreation and Park Association, Inc. (NRPA), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of NRPA as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS) and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of NRPA and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about NRPA's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of NRPA's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about NRPA's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards, as required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the schedule of expenditures of federal awards is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated January 14, 2025, on our consideration of NRPA's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of NRPA's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering NRPA's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF ACTIVITIES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

The National Recreation and Park Association, Inc. (NRPA) believes that great parks are essential to creating healthy and sustainable communities. As the leading nonprofit dedicated to the advancement of public parks, we work to ensure all parks in all places are benefiting all people. We partner with our network of more than 60,000 park and recreation professionals as well as approximately 10,000 park and recreation agencies throughout the country to strengthen communities by offering equitable access to healthy activities and safe play spaces and by protecting our natural resources. Parks are essential to healthy lifestyles, healthy environments and vibrant communities.

Established in 1965, NRPA advances public parks and recreation through advocacy, professional development, network building, research, grants, communications and publications, and more. The Association is incorporated under the laws of the state of New York and has its headquarters in Ashburn, Virginia.

The following is a summary of NRPA's core services:

NRPA's Public Policy team works every day to represent the cause of public parks and recreation at the federal level by fighting for funding and legislation that improves access to open space and recreational opportunities for all people.

NRPA creates strategic partnerships with corporations and foundations to advance the field and fill in funding gaps that exist in local communities. Through these partnerships, NRPA is supporting communities to ensure everyone, everywhere, benefits from parks and recreation. NRPA supports local park and recreation agencies to advance systems level solutions to maximize community benefits across seven dimensions of well-being, including improving parks, expanding program offerings and implementing policy-changes that create sustainable change and strengthen communities. Through its Partnerships and Programs, NRPA is improving the quality and impact of youth development programs, including mentoring and workforce development, providing older adults programs, advancing nature-based solutions, training professional to address future challenges based on differences and more.

NRPA provides learning opportunities to advance the development of best practices and resources that make parks and recreation indispensable elements of American communities. These resources include online learning opportunities, in-person conferences and events, certificate programs, professional certifications, online and in-person networking opportunities and career resources.

NRPA keeps park and recreation professionals and related fields informed through its award-winning Parks & Recreation magazine, email communications, blog, podcast, research reports, academic journals and more.

The National Recreation and Park Foundation Inc. (the Foundation) is a national nonprofit supporting organization of NRPA exempt from the payment of income taxes on its exempt activities under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). Established in 2006, the Foundation is incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia to support knowledge, public policy and public awareness efforts that enhance the quality of life for all people exclusively through the strategic works of NRPA. In October 2021, an agreement was reached that allowed the Foundation to transfer its current programs to an unrelated association. The Foundation has been dormant since that time and consequently is not consolidated in these audited financial statements.

A summary of NRPA's significant accounting policies follows:

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

NRPA prepares its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP), which involves the application of accrual accounting; consequently, revenues and gains are recognized when earned, and expenses and losses are recognized as incurred regardless of the timing of cash flows.

Net assets without donor restrictions include those net assets that are available for the general support of NRPA's operations. Net assets with donor restrictions have been donor restricted to specified time or purpose limitations. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or a purpose restriction is accomplished), net assets are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restriction. Additionally, there are net assets with donor restrictions for which the principal is required to be maintained in perpetuity and only the earnings can be used in the manner specified by the donor.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

For purposes of reporting cash flows, NRPA considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less and which are to be used for current operations to be cash equivalents. All other highly liquid investments which are to be used for long-term purposes are classified as investments.

INVESTMENTS

Investments include common stock, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, money market funds, certificates of deposit, and various bonds. These investments, other than money market funds, are recorded in the accompanying finance statements of financial position at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Money market funds are recorded at cost.

The change in unrealized appreciation or depreciation of investments is included in investment income in the accompanying statements of activities. Realized gains and losses on sales of investments are computed on an average cost method and are recorded on the trade date of the transaction and included in investment income, net in the accompanying statements of activities.

FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

NRPA has categorized its applicable financial instruments into a required fair value hierarchy as follows:

- Level 1 Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets, such as stock quotes.
- Level 2 Includes inputs other than Level 1 that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace, such as yield curves or other market data. Corporate and government bonds are classified as Level 2 investments as there are no quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets. Their value is determined using models and other valuation methodologies, which are corroborated by market data.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs which reflect NRPA's assessment of the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability including assumptions about rick, such as bid/ask spreads and liquidity discounts.

As of and for the years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, NRPA's investments and deferred compensation as described in Note 4 to the financial statements, were measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

GRANTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

Contributions are recognized when the donor or grantor makes a contribution or promise to give to NRPA that is, in substance, unconditional. Contributions receivable that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at their fair value, measured as the net present value of their future cash flows. The discounts on these amounts are computed using risk-adjusted interest rates applicable to the years in which the promises are made. There was no discount for the years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. Conditional promises to give are not included as support until the conditions are substantially met. Furthermore, based on past collection history, NRPA expects to collect all outstanding contributions receivable and; as a result, no allowance for potentially uncollectible contributions receivable has been recorded as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE

Accounts receivable consist primarily of publication sales and advertising. Accounts receivable are stated at the net realizable value and presented net of an allowance for credit losses. In determining the amount of the allowance as of the statements of financial position date, NRPA develops a loss rate for each risk pools. The loss rate is based on management's historical collection experience, adjusted for management's expectations as well as current and future economic conditions. As a result of these reviews, management records an estimate for the allowance for credit losses which totaled $51,295 and $111,507, as of June 30, 2024, and 2023, respectively. Management periodically reviews each account for collectability, and writes off amounts deemed uncollectible against the allowance. During the year ended June 30, 2024, amounts written off totaled $75,884. There were no write-offs during the year ended June 30, 2023. Credit loss expense totaled $15,672 as of June 30, 2024 and is included in other expenses in the accompanying statement of functional expenses. There was no credit loss expense during the year ended June 30, 2023.

PREPAID EXPENSES

Prepaid expenses consist primarily of deferred costs related to future meetings. Prepaid meeting costs associated with a particular meeting are expensed in the year the meeting is held.

INVENTORY

Inventory consists of publications and other merchandise and is valued at net realizable value, determined using the first-in first-out method of inventory valuation. At June 30, 2024 and 2023, NRPA did not record any reserve against its inventory, as it believes all items are fully salable.

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Expenditures in excess of $5,000 for additions, renewals and betterments are capitalized; expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Equipment and furniture are depreciated using straight-line methods over a useful life of three to ten years. Building and building improvements are depreciated on a straight-line basis over a useful life of five to forty years.

VALUATION OF LONG-LIVED ASSETS

NRPA reviews long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of the long-lived asset is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of the asset to future undiscounted cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the estimated fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reportable at the lower of the carrying amount of fair value, less costs to sell.

DEFERRED REVENUE

Deferred revenue consists primarily of exhibit and event registration fees and membership dues and subscriptions received in advance of the period in which they are earned.

REVENUE

Revenue from contracts with customers includes performance obligations that are satisfied either at a point in time or over time and most contracts have initial terms of one year or less. NRPA performs an evaluation at contract inception focused on whether a performance obligation is satisfied over time or at a point in time. If a performance obligation meets certain criteria, the related revenue is recognized over time if NRPA is able to reasonably measure its progress toward complete satisfaction of the performance obligation using reliable information.

Prices are specific to a distinct performance obligation and contacts do not have multiple performance obligations. Economic factors driven by consumer confidence, employment, inflation and other world events impact the timing and level of revenue recognized in the financial statements. Periods of economic downturn resulting from any of the above factors may result in declines in future cash flows and recognized revenue of NRPA or can have a positive impact on cash flows in favorable economic conditions.

Membership dues, subscriptions and advertising revenue are recognized evenly over the applicable dues, subscription or advertising period. Revenue received for dues and subscriptions that are related to subsequent years has been reflected as deferred revenue.

Conference fees and professional development are recognized over the time of the conference or seminar. Amounts received in advance are recorded as deferred revenue. Publication revenue is recognized upon shipment of the material. Certification and accreditation fees are recognized upon completion of the certification or accreditation.

Unconditional contributions and grants are reported as revenue and support in the year in which payments are received and/or unconditional promises to give are made. Grants and contributions are recorded as with or without donor restrictions depending upon the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Support that is restricted by the donor is reported as an increase in net assets with donor restrictions and then reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions when the restriction expires. Unconditional promises to give that have been awarded to NRPA, but not yet received, are reflected as grants and contributions receivable in the accompanying statements of financial position. A contribution is considered conditional if the agreement includes a measurable performance or barrier and a right of return. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until they become unconditional, that is, when the barrier(s) in the agreement are met. Conditional contributions and grants whose conditions are met in the same year earned are recorded as without donor restrictions in the accompanying statements of financial activities.

In January 2024, NRPA settled a matter with its insurance provider for the reduced size of the FY21 Annual Conference. The agreement provided that the insurance provider would pay $825,000 to reimburse NPRA for it losses related to hosting the event and be released from any future claims. The amount is included in insurance proceeds in the accompanying statements of activities.

FUNCTIONAL ALLOCATION OF EXPENSE

The cost of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated to the programs and supporting services benefited. Direct costs charged to each program as incurred. Salary and benefits are allocated based on level of effort. Indirect costs, such as copier expense, supplies and administrative staff expenses are allocated on a monthly basis to programs based on total expenses methodology.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENT

In In June 2016, the FASB issued guidance (FASB ASC 326), Current Expected Credit Losses, which significantly changed how entities will measure credit losses for most financial assets and certain other instruments that are not measured at fair value through net income. The most significant change in this standard is a shift from the incurred loss model to the expected loss model. Under the standard, disclosures are required to provide users of the financial statements with useful information in analyzing an entity's exposure to credit risk and the measurement of credit losses. Financial assets held by NRPA that are subject to the guidance in FASB ASC 326 were limited to trade accounts receivable. NRPA adopted the standard effective July 1, 2023. The impact of the adoption was not considered material to the financial statements and primarily resulted in new/enhanced disclosures only.

NOTE 2 – LIQUIDITY AND AVAILABILITY

NRPA invests cash balances in excess of immediate liquidity needs in accordance with its investment policy. The following provides a summary of financial assets available for general expenditures at June 30, 2024 and 2023.

NOTE 3 – GRANTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

NRPA records unconditional contributions receivable that are expected to be collected within one year at net realizable value. As of June 30, 2024 there was no discount rate necessary as the remaining contribution receivables were due in less than one year. As of June 30, 2023, management elected to not record a discount on the $500,000 due in over one year as it was deemed to be immaterial. All other amounts as of June 30, 2023 were due within one year.

NOTE 8 – ENDOWMENT FUNDS

As required by GAAP, unspent accumulations of investment earnings on endowment funds are classified as net assets with donor restrictions restricted for time or purpose until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by NRPA.

INTERPRETATION OF RELEVANT LAW

NRPA has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, NRPA classifies as net assets with donor restrictions held in perpetuity: (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor restricted endowment fund that is not classified in net assets with donor restrictions held in perpetuity are classified as net assets with donor restrictions for time or purpose until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by NRPA in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA.

FUNDS WITH DEFICIENCIES

From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with an individual donor restricted endowment fund may fall below the level that the donor or UPMIFA requires NRPA to retain as a fund of perpetual duration. There were no such deficiencies as of June 30, 2024 and 2023.

RETURN OBJECTIVES AND RISK PARAMETERS

NRPA has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets are invested in funds with a primary objective of allowing the fund to grow over time. The objective of the net assets with donor restrictions held in perpetuity is the preservation of capital.

STRATEGIES EMPLOYED FOR ACHIEVING OBJECTIVES AND SPENDING POLICY

NRPA's investments are managed in a balanced portfolio and are intended to be more aggressive than fixed income portfolios and less aggressive than equity portfolios. A positive return is expected over the time of the investment, although there may be periods with negative return. The earnings on the net assets with donor restrictions held in perpetuity are released from restricted funds as amounts are approved and used in accordance with donor stipulations.

HOW INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES RELATE TO SPENDING POLICY

NRPA's investments are managed in a balanced portfolio and is intended to be more aggressive than fixed income portfolios and less aggressive than equity portfolios. A positive return is expected over time. The objective of the net assets with donor restrictions held in perpetuity is the preservation of the capital. NRPA has interpreted UPMIFA to not permit spending from underwater endowments in accordance with the prudent management guidance.

NOTE 9 – RETIREMENT PLANS

DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLAN

NRPA has a 403(b) defined plan which covers all employees who meet certain eligibility requirements. All regular employees working 20 hours or more per week are eligible for this plan. NRPA matches equivalent contributions up to 6% of each eligible employee's gross salary. Total contribution expense was $946,520 and $362,785 for the years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

DEFERRED COMPENSATION PLAN

NRPA also sponsors deferred compensation plans for senior level employees under section 457(b) of the IRC. The plans provide a number of payment options commencing upon retirement, separation from service or death. As of June 30, 2024 and 2023, the plan's investment balances $134,052 and $195,442 respectively. The investments and related liability are included in the accompanying statements of financial position.

NOTE 10 – COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

FEDERAL AWARDS

NRPA has received federal grants that are subject to review, audit and adjustment by various federal agencies for qualified expenses charged to the grants. Such audits could lead to requests for reimbursement to the federal agencies for any expenditures or claims disallowed under the terms of the agreements. The amount, if any, of expenditures which may be potentially disallowed cannot be determined at this time, although management expects such amounts, if any, to be immaterial.

CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

NRPA maintains cash and money market accounts with financial institutions. At times, aggregate balances may at times exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured limit per institution. NRPA monitors the creditworthiness of the institution and has not experienced any credit losses on its cash and money market accounts.

MARKET RISKS

NRPA's investments are exposed to various risks, such as fluctuations in market value and credit risk. Market risk include global events which could impact the value of investment securities, such as a pandemic or international conflict. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible than changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect NRPA's balances and the amounts reported in the statements of financial position.

HOTEL COMMITMENTS

NRPA has entered into agreements with several hotels to provide conference facilities and room accommodations for its conferences through 2025. The agreements contain various clauses whereby NRPA is liable for liquidated damages in the event of cancellation or lower than anticipated attendance. The total commitment under the agreements is not determinable as it depends upon attendance and other unknown factors. However, NRPA has purchased an insurance policy to mitigate and potential losses.

EMPLOYMENT

Effective June 2018 NRPA approved an agreement with the Chief Executive Officer with a termination date of May 2022. In May 2022 the contract was renewed through May 2025. The contract provides for severance payments equal to a minimum of six months' salary if terminated without cause, based upon the employee's salary at the date of the termination.

NOTE 11 – CONDITIONAL GRANTS

NRPA has received grant commitments from the U.S. Federal government. Grants which are subject to the Uniform Guidance are cost-reimbursable in nature. Thus, a receivable related to these grants is only recognized as NRPA incurs grant-related expenses. The unearned conditional grant commitments as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, totaled $7.935,049 and $5,052,224, respectively.

During the year ended June 30, 2022, NRPA also received a separate conditional contribution from a donor totaling $374,858. As of June 30, 2022, NRPA had not yet recognized $225,000 in revenue related to the grant agreement as the associated barriers had not yet been overcome. During the year ended June 30, 2023, the remaining amount was recognized as revenue as the barriers for recognition had been met and is included in grants and contribution revenue in the accompanying statement of activities.

Additionally, NRPA provided conditional grants to recipient organizations under one of its programs. During the year ended June 30, 2022, NRPA awarded $1,260,000 in conditional grants. As of June 30, 2022, NRPA had yet to recognize grant expense totaling $630,000 as the associated conditions for recognition had not yet been met. During the year ended June 30, 2023, the grantee organizations met the associated barriers and the remaining $630,000 was recorded as grant promotion expense in the accompanying statement of functional expenses.

NOTE 12 – INCOME TAX STATUS

NRPA is generally exempt from federal income taxes under provisions of Section 501(c)(3) of the IRC. In addition, NRPA qualifies for charitable contribution deductions and has been classified as an organization that is not a private foundation under Section 509(a)(2). NRPA generates unrelated business income from its advertising activities. NRPA had no material net taxable unrelated business income for the years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. NRPA evaluated its uncertainty in income taxes for the years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, and

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Board of Directors of National Recreation and Park Association, Inc.

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of National Recreation and Park Association, Inc. (NRPA), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2024, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated January 14, 2025.

Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered NRPA's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of NRPA's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of NRPA's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements, on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

Report on Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether NRPA's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of This Report

Marcun LLP

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering NRPA's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON COMPLIANCE FOR ITS MAJOR FEDERAL PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE REQUIRED BY THE UNIFORM GUIDANCE

To the Board of Directors of National Recreation and Park Association, Inc.

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We have audited National Recreation and Park Association, Inc. (NRPA) compliance with the types of compliance requirements identified as subject to audit in the OMB Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of NRPA's major federal program for the year ended June 30, 2024. NRPA's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

In our opinion, NRPA complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on its major federal program for the year ended June 30, 2024.

Basis for Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS); the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States (Government Audit Standards); and the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Our responsibilities under those standards and the Uniform Guidance are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section of our report.

We are required to be independent of NRPA and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on compliance for the major federal program. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of NRPA's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above.

Responsibilities of Management for Compliance

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements referred to above and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, statutes, regulations, rules, and provisions of contracts or grant agreements applicable to NRPA's federal programs.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above occurred, whether due to fraud or error, and express an opinion on NRPA's compliance based on our audit. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Generally Accepted Auditing Standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance will always detect material noncompliance when it exists. The risk of not detecting material noncompliance resulting from fraud is higher than for that resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above is considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, it would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user of the report on compliance about NRPA's compliance with the requirements of each major federal program as a whole.

In performing an audit in accordance with Generally Accepted Auditing Standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance, we:

- exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- identify and assess the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding NRPA's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
- obtain an understanding of NRPA's internal control over compliance relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of NRPA's internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in internal control over compliance that we identified during the audit.

Report on Internal Control Over Compliance

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section above and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance may exist that were not identified.

Our audit was not designed for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

NOTES TO THE SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 2024

NOTE 1 – BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards (SEFA) includes the federal award activity of NRPA for the year ended June 30, 2024. The information in this SEFA is presented in accordance with the requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Because the SEFA presents only a selected portion of the operations of NRPA, it is not intended to, and does not, present the financial position, changes in net assets or cash flows of NRPA.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Expenditures reported on the SEFA are reported on the accrual basis of accounting. Such expenditures are recognized following the cost principles contained in the Uniform Guidance, wherein certain types of expenditures are not allowable or are limited as to reimbursement.

NOTE 3 – INDIRECT COST RATE

NRPA elected not to use the 10% de minimis indirect cost rate, which is allowed in accordance with the Uniform Guidance.
